

Science & Everyday Experiences (SEE)

Initiative focusing on

Science, Technology and Mathematics (STEM)

A project of

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

Delta Research & Educational Foundation (DREF)

American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)

Funded by the

National Science Foundation (NSF)

Grant #ESI 01-4555

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface Honoring Dr. Geraldine Pittman Woods	i
Cover Letter	ii
Editor’s Notes	iii
DREF and AAAS Staff	iv
SEE National Project Managers and Regional Coordinators	v
What Does SEE Expect Children and Families to Learn & Do	vi

SECTION I: WHY PARENT AND FAMILY INVOLVEMENT?

The “Why’s” of Parent Involvement: What Research Has To Say	I-2
Family Meetings	I-3
Parents’ Check List (To Help Avoid the Listening Gap)	I-4
Watch Your Language Activity	I-5
101 Ways Parents Can Help Students Achieve	I-6
How You Can Help Your Child Learn Science	I-7
How You Can Help Your Child Learn Math	I-9
Shopping for a Home Computer	I-11
Using Your Computer at Home	I-12
Computer Literacy	I-12

SECTION II: SCIENCE ACTIVITIES

Typical Format for Informal Science Activities	II-2
Probing Questions	II-3

SECTION II: SCIENCE ACTIVITIES, cont.

List of SEE Science and Health Activities.....II-4

12 Spot.....II-5

Inhale and Smell.....II-10

Simple Electric Circuits.....II-13

Word Factory.....II-18

Balancing Act.....II-25

Butterfly Color Explosion.....II-27

Round and Round.....II-29

Building With Wonderful Junk.....II-31

Seeing Is Deceiving.....II-34

SECTION III: MATH ACTIVITIES

Math Power and Probing Questions.....III-2

About Learning Mathematics.....III-3

Some Important Things Your Child Needs to Know About Mathematics.....III-6

List of SEE Math Activities.....III-7

Estimation Challenge.....III-8

What's Your Wingspan.....III-12

Tangrams.....III-20

The Handshake Problem.....III-27

The Newspaper Fold (A Million Dollar Bet).....III-29

The Allowance Challenge.....III-31

Table of Contents, Cont.

SECTION III: MATH ACTIVITIES, cont.

Less is Better.....III-33
Counter Game.....III-37

SECTION IV: DID YOU KNOW FACTS?

SEE Did You Know Facts.....IV-2

SECTION V: USEFUL RESOURCES FOR PARENTS!

Great Mathematics Web Sites for Parents and Children.....V-2
Great Science Web Sites and Resources for Parents and Children.....V-3